

Trump’s gun comment seen as veiled threat against Clinton

Washington, Aug 10: Igniting a new controversy, Republican presidential nominee Donald Trump has said that gun rights activists could stop

Hillary Clinton from winning the polls and picking new Supreme Court judges, a remark strongly criticised as a threat of violence against his Democratic rival. “Hillary wants to abolish, essentially abolish the Second Amendment. By the way, if she gets to pick her judges, nothing you can do folks. Though the Second Amendment people, maybe there is, I don’t know,” Trump said at an election rally in Wilmington,

North Carolina on Tuesday. The US Constitution’s Second Amendment guarantees a right to bear firearms. Trump’s comments were interpreted by many as a threat of violence against his Democratic rival with Clinton campaign decrying the remark as “dangerous.” PTI

Phelps & Ledecky shine on golden night

Rio De Janeiro, Aug 10: Michael Phelps won two gold medals on Tuesday, avenging his 200 metres butterfly defeat from the London Olympics and then anchoring the US 4x200 freestyle team to victory on a night of high drama and emotion in the pool.

Katie Ledecky of the United States won her second gold medal of the meeting and Hungary’s Katinka Hosszu her third, extending their dominance of women’s swimming in feats that on any other day would have grabbed top billing. Instead it was Phelps, the most successful Olympian of all time, who stole the limelight, extending his career medal tally to 25 by adding golds number 20 and 21. In the 200 butterfly, he touched the wall in one minute, 53.36 seconds to beat Japan’s Masato Sakai by 0.04 seconds, with Hungary’s Tamas Kenderesi taking the bronze. Chad Le Clos of South Africa, Phelps’ conqueror four years ago, finished fourth. Hungary’s Hosszu, who despite five world titles had come away empty-handed from three previous Olympics, won her third gold medal with victory in the women’s 200 individual medley. Reuters

Boxer Vikas, Atanu archer shine
Former Asian Games gold medallist Vikas Krishan (75kg) gave a perfect start to India’s boxing campaign in the Olympics, beating American greenhorn Charles Conwell to enter the pre-quarterfinals here on Tuesday. Meanwhile, India’s only male archer in Rio, Atanu Das, put in an exceptional performance to enter the men’s individual round of 16 with a 139-135 win over Cuba’s Adrian Andres Puentes Perez. In a thrilling best of five sets encounter, that lived up to its billing, Das edged out his opponent 28-26, 29-26, 26-27, 27-28, 29-28, punching above his weight. Agencies

Netflix fuels a surge in scripted TV shows

Aug 10: The great scripted-TV boom is showing no signs of abating. By year’s end there could be anywhere from 430 to 450 scripted television shows, which would serve, once again, as a record for the industry, said John Landgraf, chief executive of FX Networks. In 2015 there were 417 scripted TV shows—nearly double the 210 that were on the air in 2009, FX’s research department said. And who is responsible for all the growth? Streaming services like Amazon, Hulu and Netflix. Through July, 322 scripted shows were broadcast, a 6% rise from the 304 at this point last year. And while basic cable, premium cable and the broadcast networks are relatively steady in volume year over year, digital services have had enormous increases: 49 shows have appeared on streaming services so far this year.
